

Tarutao national park, Butang archipelago, koh lipe Rescue Diver Course - Koh Lipe

The Diving

There's a lot of good things to say about the diving surrounding Koh Lipe Island. There's an incredible macro life that reminds us of treasure hunts (where the treasure is weird and rare marine life). The coral reef is beautiful on the walls where the currents are not too strong for it to grow large and ridiculously colourful. And where the current IS strong, divers will be allowed to try how a real drift dive feels, whilst keeping an eye out for the great manta rays or dolphins.

But, during this course... the rescue course... We will guarantee that you won't be too focused on the marine life. Instead, you will have your eyes on your fellow divers and instructor! By practicing scenarios and exercises, this course will be building your skills as a diver and especially as a good buddy. It is no joke that this is listed as one of the most giving courses in the career of a diver. It is hard work, and loads of fun. So why do the course in Koh Lipe? Well, the dive center is very chilled and professional, the island is good fun, the dive sites are perfect teaching conditions and oh... did we mention the marine life?!!

Introduction to course

The Rescue Diver course is a pivotal step in expanding a diver's knowledge and experience. Rescue divers learn to look beyond themselves to consider the safety and well-being of other divers. Speak to any Dive Professional and they'll tell you that the Rescue Diver course marked the changing point in their diving capabilities. It is a confidence boosting course! Rescue divers are characteristically in control, calm, safe and caring divers. The Rescue diver course is full of challenges and hands on learning experiences - it's also a lot of fun! The course involves learning in-water rescue skills which are then tried and tested in Open water Rescue scenarios/dives. The Rescue Diver Course does involve reading the Rescue Diver Manual, academic sessions with your Instructor and a multiple choice written exam at the end.

After you've checked in, you will be introduced to your instructor who will explain you what you will be doing during your course. Courses are strictly following all the PADI standards, but can and will be conducted to fit your performance and the weather conditions. But roughly, your first day on the Rescue Course will consist of confined water skills and class work, equipping you with basic skills such as assisting a panicking diver, surfacing an unconscious diver, and out of air drills. In the classroom you will learn how to quickly identify stress in divers and how to minimise the risks associated with differing diving conditions. The second, third and forth day are spent on the boat or shore simulating emergencies, conducting searches, and learning how best to manage the human resources available, as well as learning how to administer oxygen, and in-water artificial ventilation techniques. Be prepared for unexpected rescue scenarios! Day five will be spent on land with theory and the final exam. Remember no diving 24 hours before flying.
