The Location

Explore the reefs with the dive center, trek through the jungle that covers the island, or snorkel from beach to beach. It is a green island, full of life, but no roads, no cars, and absolutely NO stress! As the sun sets, grab a seafood bbq dinner on the beach. And if you are not diving the next day, take a 10-minute walk over to Long Beach and dance barefooted in the sand till the morning arrives together with backpackers and locals alike.

You can always grab a boat taxi to a secluded beach or do the short walk through the jungle to the famous long beach for a party, but the serenity and the all-time presence of nature in Coral Bay will always drag you back in the morning! And if you are a little fresh, then jump in the ocean for an early morning snorkel on the corner reef to maximize your luck of seeing little black reef sharks buzzing around beneath you.

This is only a selection of the many dive sites represented on this particular diving destination. The diving is dictated by the safeness of the environment.

The Pinnacle

Also known as Tokong Laut (Temple of the Sea), this is a superb site for all experience levels. Located just 15 minutes by boat west of Perhentian Kecil, the pinnacle rises to the surface, making it one of the area's most iconic dives. Divers descend along a permanent mooring line to around 12 metres before exploring the reef.

Among the hard corals, look for bamboo sharks, moray eels, shrimp, and octopus. And out in the blue, look for schools of five-lined snapper swirl around the site, along with blacktip reef sharks - and on rare occasions - even whale sharks...

Sugar Wreck

A 20-minute boat ride from Perhentian Kecil, Sugar Wreck is ideal for newer divers. This 80-metre cargo ship sank in the late 1990s while under tow and now rests on its side in 18 metres of water, forming a well-preserved artificial reef.

Schools of batfish, snapper, and barracuda circle the wreck, while juvenile fish, scorpionfish, and lionfish shelter inside. Wreck details such as bridge instruments and scattered equipment are still visible. A amazing dive that that you can do over and over again!

Serenggeh

Located on the northern tip of Perhentian Besar, Serenggeh (Tanjung Basi) is known for its outstanding coral gardens and is a highlight of any multi-dive trip.

The reef starts shallow and relaxed before dropping into deeper water where larger marine life gathers. Around the edge of the boulders, a wall of blue opens up to 15 metres, often filled with batfish, barracuda, snapper, and fusiliers.

Shallower sections reveals table corals, staghorn gardens, and brain corals, as well as is a home to lionfish, octopus, moray eels, and scorpionfish. Finish the dive with a peaceful safety stop surrounded by curious reef fish - this is tropical diving at its most relaxed.
